

Transportation & Car Accidents

We all lead busy lives and are often on the move, but sometimes we aren't fortunate enough to have travel go smoothly. Whether it's driving to work, taking a train or airplane for a business trip or vacation, or riding on a motorcycle or boat as a way to relax, we all know travel comes with risks. But when travel injuries occur because of another person or organization, you may deserve justice for their harmful actions.

EXPERIENCED AUTOMOBILE ACCIDENT ATTORNEYS: FIGHTING FOR JUSTICE

Every day there are millions of cars and trucks on the road, thousands of planes in the air and boats, trains and motorcycles on the move. Unfortunately, not everyone arrives safely at their destination. Many people's travel plans are interrupted by transportation accidents that cause serious injuries and, in some cases, lead to death.

Accidents like car crashes are sometimes caused by other parties who were driving under the influence, texting or talking on their phone, were inattentive, speeding, or otherwise disobeying established rules. Aviation accidents, cruise ship accidents and train accidents often involve large numbers of injuries while car accidents, bicycle accidents and trucking accidents can involve a smaller number of people, but the severity of injuries can be equally devastating.

Your transportation and car accident claim

If you or a member of your family is injured in a transportation accident where another party was at fault, you may be entitled to much more than just the damages for repairing your vehicle or personal property, you may also be entitled to damages for your medical expenses, any lost wages, and pain and suffering. A law firm like ours, which is familiar with traffic law, can quickly and competently identify not only whether you have a case but also ensure that your case is litigated to the fullest extent of the law.

Traffic collisions including car accidents, motorcycle accidents and truck accidents

The consequences of traffic or motor vehicle accidents can be devastating, leading to property damage, serious injuries and even wrongful death. Our experienced car accident attorneys handle all types of car accidents including hit-and-run accidents and those involving drunk drivers. We know traffic collisions can have both short-term and long-term impacts. For example, someone involved in a car crash like a rear-end collision while driving their car may suffer severe injuries including whiplash or a traumatic brain injury that cause pain and suffering, require long-term medical treatment, create medical bills and lost wages. The traffic and car accident attorneys at our law firm have secured justice and a fair settlement for many accident victims.

Aviation accident expertise

The aviation industry in the United States boasts an impressive safety record, but when something goes wrong, results can have tragic consequences. Our aviation attorneys have experience bringing justice to families who have lost loved ones in a plane crash, which has its own unique set of emotions and legal issues. Our compassionate team knows how to navigate these cases and understands that even though the situation may be a large-scale disaster, each person and each case is unique and deserves compassion.

Our legal team is proud to represent families who lost loved ones in the tragic crash of Ethiopian Air flight 302, a Boeing 737 MAX aircraft that plunged to the ground six minutes after takeoff on March 10, 2019. Our aviation attorneys are members of the Plaintiff's Steering Committee, the collaboration of plaintiffs' law firms working together in the litigation against the Boeing Company for that tragedy. Our team also has advocated through the media and other channels for the grounding of that aircraft and to educate the public on how to identify a Boeing 737 MAX aircraft when they book airline tickets.
