Zantac Cancer Cases

DANGEROUS AND DEFECTIVE PRODUCT ATTORNEYS | ROMANUCCI & BLANDIN

Romanucci & Blandin is proud to represent more than 600 individuals who developed cancer after taking the recalled heartburn medication Zantac. This national mass tort involves tens of thousands of users of Zantac, with lawsuits filed in courts all over the country seeking damages relating to their cancer diagnoses related to Zantac use. News reports in 2019 and 2020 detailed how numerous manufacturers and pharmacies that distributed Zantac were issuing recalls due to the presence of NDMA, a known carcinogen, in Zantac shipments. It was later discovered that, as a result of an inherent defect in the Zantac pill, itself, Zantac actually breaks down into NDMA, exposing users to excessive doses of the cancer-causing chemical. It was also discovered that major pharmaceutical companies (Boehringer Ingelheim, Sanofi, Pfizer) knew of this problem, but never warned their customers of the dangers.

Mass tort attorneys and class action cases

The Zantac cancer attorneys at Romanucci & Blandin know how to navigate these complex cases and bring justice to victims, and sometimes settle these cases without going to trial. In addition to the Zantac case, our team also leads the environmental pollution cancer cases caused by Sterigenics in Willowbrook, Illinois and nicotine addictions caused by marketing practices of e-cigarette manufacturer JUUL Labs.

With headquarters in Chicago, Romanucci & Blandin approaches a mass tort action or class action as a way to provide monetary compensation and hold a culpable person or institution financially accountable and responsible for the economic, physical and emotional damages that have occurred to a large group of individuals or families.

Our law firm has a team of attorneys and staff with years of experience with mass tort and class action litigation. Our team includes partners who guide the process and share their deep knowledge of these types of lawsuits. Each client and each situation is different, and your claim is treated with great care and respect as the team investigates what happened and determines the best path to justice for you.

At Romanucci & Blandin, our mass tort attorneys and class action attorneys research the most up-to-date regulatory changes, state laws and federal laws and hire trained and experienced experts to work as expert witnesses and consultants on your cases. We will evaluate your injury and claim and research the relevant statute of limitations applicable to your case. Whether it is to review medical bills and laws or know state agencies and governmental agencies and how they operate, we work to locate and utilize the best expert witnesses across the country who are experienced in all the relevant state laws. We work collaboratively with other law firms when the circumstances call for that and are proven leaders of these large group cases.
