

Our Thinking: Justice & Results

$437,500 Settlement – Medical Malpractice

During surgery to remove a tumor from under the left arm of a 90-year-old patient, the axillary artery was transected and nerve damage was sustained – causing injuries which prevent the plaintiff from using her left arm and hand. The elderly patient further asserted that the tumor surgery was unnecessary because the risks associated with the procedure outweighed the potential benefits.