

Our Thinking: In The News

50 Black women have been killed by US police since 2015. Not one of the officers has been convicted.

INSIDER | June 21, 2021

From February 2015 to March 2021, the police shot and killed at least 50 Black women, identified in police reports and by news outlets. The true number might be higher. Several of these women had a mental illness, their families said.
