George Floyd's family joined by leaders to discuss police reform bill named after him.

ABC 13 Houston | March 6, 2021

"We don't come here today with anger, we come here with a sense of duty," said Rep. Jackson Lee. "This bill is a bill that will speak to the hearts and minds of those who have been harmed by wrong kind of policing standards, and it will end profiling. It will ensure that there will be a standard for excessive force."
