

Our Thinking: In The News

Minneapolis to pay record $27 million to settle lawsuit with George Floyd's family.

Minneapolis Star Tribune | March 12, 2021

The family's legal team voiced hope that the agreement will push policymakers across the country to institute policing reforms to avoid having to write large checks for law enforcement misconduct. Floyd's death on a Minneapolis street corner triggered worldwide protests over racism and police brutality and has already changed laws on police procedures in Minnesota and beyond.

Read full article here