

Our Thinking: In The News

Police Killed George Floyd. An MMA Fighter Punched Back.

Sports Illustrated | May 25, 2021

Williams, 33, would prepare for months, sometimes in front of a mirror, rehearsing and re-rehearsing his maneuvers. “To clear the head,” as he puts it, he spent nights shadowboxing. He vowed to give no quarter when pressed. In weaker moments, he would rely on the team around him for support. He thought about this upcoming confrontation as he went to sleep. It would consume his thoughts as soon as he woke.

Read full article here